

Building workforce capacity to solve problems

Do you work in the aged care sector and have a problem to solve in your workplace? The Innovator Training Program is designed to provide you with tools and skills to design and implement an evidence-based solution that is tailored to your unique context.

The Innovator Training Program (ITP) supports participants to implement an evidence-based solution that is appropriate for local settings and organisations.

Participants begin the program with a problem they have identified, and leave with a solution, a project plan, and a pitch to present to stakeholders.

The ITP is facilitated online via self-directed learning modules and workshops supported by expert ARIIA staff, who provide participants with tailored support alongside a dedicated sponsor from their workplace.

The program provides transferable skills and knowledge to:

- Understand the components of a problem.
- Find best-practice evidence to solve the problem.
- Manage change and innovation projects within the workplace.
- Measure if the change has made a difference.

As a not-for-profit organisation, ARIIA offers the ITP at a low cost for eligible aged care organisations across Australia.

ITP for an Individual

Available to eligible aged care workers who support the care of vulnerable older Australians and thin markets.

As an individual Innovator from your organisation, you will learn alongside a cohort of peers who work in aged care across Australia.

The 100 hours of learning and workshops are delivered 100% online.

Find out more by scanning the QR code below.

ITP for a Team

The ITP can be tailored exclusively for a group of staff from your organisation, who will work together to solve a specific problem in your workplace.

The 100 hours of workshops and support are a combination of online and face-to-face, offering flexibility and a unique opportunity to bring together a group of your staff.

Available to any aged care organisation in Australia.

ARIIA Innovation Network

After completing the ITP, you will continue to be supported by the Innovation Network. You will have access to a range of valuable resources and extension topics, project management tools and grantsmanship resources.

The Innovation Network provides an opportunity to stay connected with ARIIA staff and your ITP peers, share ideas and learn from others' implementation experiences.
